Ask the Pastor

Several years ago, The Saturday Evening Post ran a cartoon showing a man about to be rescued after he had spent a long time ship-wrecked on a tiny desert-island. The sailor in charge of the rescue team stepped onto the beach and handed the man a stack of newspapers.

"Compliments of the Captain," the sailor said. "He would like you to glance at the headlines to see if you'd still like to be rescued!"

Sometimes the headlines do scare us. Sometimes we feel that evil is winning, but then along comes Easter, to remind us that there is no grave deep enough, no seal imposing enough, no stone heavy enough, no evil strong enough to keep Christ in the grave.

Our challenge this month (and always) is to let the Resurrection remind us to live as Easter people. Despite the uncertain world around us, remember, we are Christ's disciples serving the world while receiving, rejoicing, and relaying the Good News of God's grace, shown to us in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus.

If you would like to submit a question for "Ask the Pastor", Biblical, theological, church related, anything you have been dying to ask a pastor, you can hand me a note, ask me after church, send an e-mail, or sneak into the church after dark and anonymously slide a sealed envelope under my office door. If I answer your question in print, I will not include your name unless you explicitly ask me to.

Thanks to our church family for all the kind expressions of sympathy, food, memorials, cards and phone calls after the loss of our mother, grandmother, and great grandmother. Everyone's kindness was truly appreciated. A special thank you to Pastor O'Brien for the beautiful funeral service.

Gods' Blessing to all.

The family of Edna Sandrock

The Book of Psalms, which is generally believed to be the most widely read of all the books in the Old Testament, is part hymnbook, part prayer book, part wisdom literature, and part anthology of poems that express the religious feelings of the Israelites throughout the various periods of their national history. The subject matter of the Psalms is astonishingly broad. On one hand it proclaims praise and prayer for God Most High (Psalm 50:14), and on the other, it embraces human experience as intimate as lamenting a lost mother (Psalm 35:14). The Book of Psalms has a special significance for understanding the religious life of ancient Israel. The prophets and scribes provide some insight concerning what the Hebrews thought, but the psalms give the clearest indication of what the Hebrews felt. Here, we find a revelation of the hopes, the joys, the sorrows, the loyalties, the doubts, and the aspirations of the human heart.

The Psalms are of varying length (but most are pretty short) and there are a lot of them, however, we will continue with our 'one chapter per week' reading plan. Over the course of the next few years (150 Psalms!) we will discuss the different types of Psalms (lament, praise, worship, royal, etc.) and the different uses for Psalms. One suggestion is praying through the Psalms. Augustine of Hippo said, "If the psalm prays, you pray. If the psalm laments, you lament. If the psalm exalts, you rejoice. If it hopes, you hope. If it fears, you fear. Everything written here is a mirror for us." As you pray the Psalms, you will learn how to pray in every season, whether rejoicing with those who rejoice or mourning with those who mourn.

Our reading schedule is as follows: for the week starting...

April 19 – Psalm 2
April 26 – Psalm 3

July 26 – Psalm 16
August 2 – Psalm 17

A Christian steward serves God

Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

God's work. Our hands.

ELCA Conference of Bishops holds spring meeting

The Conference of Bishops of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) held its online meeting March 4-5. The conference, an advisory body of the ELCA, comprises 65 synod bishops, the presiding bishop and the secretary.

"While the technology allows us to meet, much of what we do when we are together is build relationships with each other between sessions," said the Rev. Tracie Bartholomew, bishop of the ELCA New Jersey Synod and chair of the conference. "To that end, we are eager to meet in person and hope to do so in October. We accomplished the business of the conference, as well as spent time talking about and moving into the future."

"We bid farewell to Pastor Walter May, executive for Synod Relations, as he retires later in March, and we welcomed Deacon Mary Ann Schwabe into that role," Bartholomew said, adding that the conference expresses heartfelt thanks for May's 13 years working with the bishops.

In her report to the conference, ELCA Presiding Bishop Elizabeth A. Eaton said, "We've learned over the past year how resilient we are as church and as people of God. Last year was a year of pain, loss, injustice and uncertainty. It was also a year of learning, listening and trying new things — stepping out of our comfort zones and into a more virtual world. This church persevered in so many ways."

During the meeting, the conference reviewed an updated draft of "Definitions and Guidelines for Discipline" from the Committee on Appeals. The document describes the grounds by which officers, rostered ministers, candidates for rostered ministry, congregations and members of congregations may be subject to discipline according to the practice of this church. The document now goes to the Church Council for consideration during its spring meeting.

The conference also welcomed guest speaker Krish Vignarajah, CEO of Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service (LIRS), who spoke of the long legacy shared by the ELCA and LIRS in welcoming and caring for newcomers.

A panel of pastor-theologians addressed the topic of the post-pandemic church, and this address was followed by small-group conversation. The panelists were the Rev. Peter Marty, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Davenport, Iowa; Dr. Anthony Bateza, assistant professor of religion at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn.; and Mary Hinkle Shore, rector and dean of Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary of Lenoir-Rhyne University.

In other business, the conference:

- Received a report from Judith Roberts, ELCA senior director for Diversity, Equality and Inclusion, addressing synod diversity goals. Roberts spoke of the trend toward an increase in synods that have created anti-racism teams and diversity goals. Roberts also provided the conference with information on resources to help build intercultural competence.
- Received a report from John Weit, ELCA executive for Worship, addressing how worship has been adapted during the pandemic.
- Engaged in conversation about the conference's role in the ELCA's Future Church design.
- Received written reports from the secretary, treasurer and other churchwide home areas, and updates from the conference's various committees.

Impact Stories

I am looking for stories of how our ministries, activities, etc. Have impacted individuals and the community. Since we are currently in the year of "Giving", I would especially appreciate stories that relate to that particular faith practice. If you have any stories to suggest, please let me know.

Financial Secretary's Report: Kristina Wildman - A $5000 posting error has been corrected. Current income is down but will correct with the five-week Sunday months in the future. Budget is still good.

Treasurer's report: Kent Delventhal - Expenses are remaining low due to COVID and the lack of in church activities. Property was higher this month due to a 2020 bill just turned in for exterminator services.

Finance Committee Report: Fred Lammers - In discussion on moving the last year exterminator service bill to the reserved $10,000 overage fund.

Christian Community Life: Cheryl Berger - Christian Community Life is working with the Evangelism Committee on the Directory. Status of the cat food and dog food donations: Ottawa county do not donate pet food or provide a pick-up place for donations. Committee checking with Lucas County. Kristina to help with the re-search.

Food Pantry day for St John will be April 17.

Evangelism: Melissa Hays - The committee has started working on the Directory and are looking at several different lists. Meeting again next week to finalizing the list and discuss how to go forward with the updating the directory. Marcia Morgan asked if the committee was also reviewing for the voter list for the congregational meeting and they are.

Parish Education: Carol Jensen - There will be no Sunday School on Easter Sunday. Preparations continue for the Easter Egg Drive thru on April 3rd. On March 27th at 10:090 we will meet at the church to fill the treat bags. We are looking for youth to help with this. The Parish Ed Committee is discussing ways to make Vacation Bible School possible this year. Usually about 20 children pre-register and 80 children attend. Much discussion on how to handle social distancing with input from Lindsey Krumnow on what is currently happening in the school system. Please contact Carol for Kim for your ideas.

Stewardship: Pan LaRue – Tom Cashen, with Rob Gerkenmeyer assisting will coordinate the Golf Outing this year.

Worship Life: Traci Brown – Fred and Mellissa Lammers presented their thoughts and ideas for upcoming services. The Easter services RSVP lists had reached capacity. It was decided the number could be safely increased to 80 per service. The RSVP will reflect that increase/ Due to the ever-changing COVID restrictions and guidelines, it was decided to hold a special WL meeting in two weeks, on March 23 at 7pm to make final decisions regarding seating, etc. for those who will be worshipping in person for Easter services. There was a good response from members who will be recording and sharing their musical talents for the Easter service. The Easter Flower order will be printed and published after the types of flowers, prices, and deadline is conformed. They will be ordered from Hirzel's the same florist the weekly altar and chancel flowers are from. Flowers can be picked up April 11 after Sunday services.

Property: Gary Johnson – Gary Johnson will chair. Property replaced light in the hall. The county has been contacted concerning the pot holes outside of the parking lot. Issue will be addressed in warmer weather. The water dripping on the fourth floor by the elevator is believed from drifting snow. Marcia Morgan requested that the walls by the elevator and the window in the library be looked as stucco shows damage and is peeling away.

OLD BUSINESS:

NEW BUSINESS: Pastor O'Brien requested an update on the COVID building usage. The outside group section will be updated. Building occupation will also be to 87 in the basement and the Social Hall will be 64.

Next Committee Meeting will be April 8 at 7:00 pm

Next Council Meeting is scheduled for April 15 at 7:00 pm.

Respectively submitted, Marcia Morgan, Council Secretary
